8th Wave has organized several client focused incentive programs around the annual Singapore F1 night race.

This has included organizing the hotel bookings, VIP airport transfers, customized dinners at premium restaurants or venues, full day cultural and adventure programs and branded gifts and souvenirs.

One client rented a super yacht to host a cocktail party prior to the race, while another took part in our unique "Pit-Stop" team building activity where the teams competed against each other using real Formula cars and tools.

TEAM BUILDING

Connecting Minds & Hearts

We organize team building activities all over Asia as a part of bigger events or as a stand alone event.

We are able to develop the entire process from venue selection to ground logistics to the type of activities needed to suit the company objectives.

Team building is a series of fun activities that energize, create opportunities to communicate and create as a team, helping to inject more energy and stimulate thinking into a conference or company. These can be themed and branded according to the company mission & vision, event tagline and learning objectives.

and instead of thinking how things may be, to see them as they are."*
